KARDEŞLERİM

"Being poor is not to feel an empty pocket, but to not have someone to hold your hand when you pull your hand off the pocket."

Kadir and his three younger siblings' life change caused by the sudden death of their parents. One morning, Hatice witnesses to an unfortunate situation where she was sent to her bosses', Nebahat Atakul and Akif Atakul's summer house. Her boss's spouse, Akif Atakul is caught by Hatice whilst he has a love affair with his business partner's wife, Suzan Manyaslı. While leaving the house abruptly, the young woman is deceased in a car accident. Veli is also a laborer at a construction site Akif owns, and he faces his boss by going to the construction site.

At the end of the day, this lonesome itself is not enough to rip the orphans apart from each other. Kadir and his siblings find themselves in a new life without any money in their pockets and no shelter. Even though Akif Atakul is the sole responsible of these four innocent children's hell-like lives, he proposes a job to Kadir and accepts Ömer and Asiye to the private school he owns. This new life opens a new window both for Kadir and his siblings but also for Akif's family. The two families' path will cross and the secrets will be revealed. In time, the rich will be the poor and the poor will be the rich in this new system. Yet, there are partings, surprise partnerships, erratic friendships and impossible loves await...

FALCON CREST

ŞAHİN TEPEŞİ

Tuna stole Melek's father, her love, and her family fortune. But Melek's childhood mistake killed Tuna's parents. Both women have blood on their hands, but neither will rest until the other is destroyed. Can two young people find love in the midst of this war? FALCON CREST is one of America's legendary TV series. Its consistently strong plots and more believable storylines made it the classiest primetime serial drama of the 1980s. The inter-family fighting that propelled the series also gave us one of the best TV villains of all time —plus many of the most dramatic moments on television. It's these essential elements of FALCON CREST that Ay Yapım has updated for a modern, international audience.

I LOVED HIM SO MUCH

BEN ONU ÇOK SEVDİM

A young woman, as a witness in Yassiada trial, gets interrogated about her relationship with Adnan Menderes, the Prime Minister of his time. The judge asks her if she knows that Adnan is married, if he killed her baby and if she is ashamed of being his mistress or not. The young woman answers: "I love him so much!" This project is about well-known but unspoken love between Adnan Menderes, the prime minister of his time, and his beloved mistress Ayhan Aydan. The story begins with the hardest years of Democrat Party. While news of martyrs from the Korean War spreads around the country, intense opposition from Republican People's Party (RPP) also creates high tension on Adnan Menderes. On the other hand, his love for his children and unemotional but constructive support of his wife help him to stand. However, his meeting with Ayhan Aydan starts an inevitable and problematic love affair in such a period. Moreover, Ayhan, with her only child, passes through rough marriage process. Although her marriage is about to be over, her relationship with Adnan creates tension in both sides and Adnan's wife Berrin gets affected the most.

DİĞER YARIM

Two shores, two worlds, two sisters, two identical faces, small sailing boats, Black Sea meals.....

Meryem, the daughter of a conservative family from Black Sea, and Ecevit, the son of an Albanian originated family, get married despite all the oppositions. However, the couple is extremely different with respect to their cultures, social status, and living styles. Meryem and Ecevit, who are both as stubborn as a goat, quarrel with each other in a few years for no reason, and their obstinacy wins. While getting divorced, their twin sisters are apportioned between them by the court. One of the girls will stay with the mother, and the other will stay with the father. They both swear not to show the children to each other. While they raise the girls according to their own cultures and perspectives, they tell them a big lie. However, after years the destiny of the twin sisters tied in Istanbul, and the two sisters run to each other one day. The sisters, faces of whom are identical, but living styles of whom are diametrically opposite, join their hands, and make a decision on that day when all realities have turned into lie. They will give a good lesson to their mother and father, and unite them together again.

MY HEART IS YOURS

KALBİM SENİ SEÇTİ

A giant love, a tragic story

A rich girl (Handan) falls in love with a guitarist (Omer) from a modest background. The two get married despite Handan's family's objections and settle in Mugla. They have a child named Emre, but their happy days come to an end when he disappears. Omer and his mother blame Handan for his disappearance. Handan starts having psychological problems because of the stress she's going through and stabs her husband during a heated argument. She's hospitalized in a mental ward after this. Handan's father takes her back to Istanbul. Shortly after Handan's return to her family home, Emre is found. However Omer doesn't tell about this to Handan, fearing that she'd take away his son. Meanwhile Handan finds out that she's pregnant with her second child. She also doesn't say anything to Omer due to similar fears and her father's pressure. The second born baby is named Kaan and he's raised at his grandfather's house, without knowing who his real father is. Handan thinks that Emre is dead. Meanwhile, Omer marries another woman to forget Handan and Emre grows up without knowing who his real mother is. Years later the two brothers come face to face at the same university. Meanwhile Omer and Handan meet once again and learning the hidden truths will lead to a big family tragedy.

AEGEAN LOVERS

ALEV ALEV

"A love story woven with love, betrayal and revenge that will fill the hearts with burning desire..."

Murat and Alev are two young people in love living in the Aegean town of Sigacik. At the time they decide to get married Murat gets a job offer from a wealthy businessman named Demir Boran. He and his sister Umran are on a business trip on the Aegean, aboard their luxurious boat. Murat agrees to become a captain in Demir Boran's boat and they sail away. However Umran falls deeply in love with Murat and commits suicide when she can't get the response she expects from Murat. Demir asks Murat to marry Umran and tells him that it will only be a marriage of convenience that will last for a month. Murat unwillingly agrees. Meanwhile Alev finds out that she's pregnant. She also sees Murat and Umran's marriage pictures on the newspapers the next day and she's crushed. The whole town also gets word of her pregnancy and Murat's marriage. So she's forced to leave the town in shame and seeks refuge in Istanbul, at her friend Ece's house. She swears that she'll take revenge from Murat for everything that he's done to her.
